

Discussion

For this discussion assignment I had chosen three different well known hackers, named Zate Burg who is now currently employed as a security leader. I had also chosen Cherryl Biswas who is a threat Intel Analyst with TD Bank in Canada and assessing threat actors, vulnerabilities, and exploits. My third and final choice for this assignment is Keirsten Brager is a Lead Security Engineer at a Fortune 500 power utility company and was recently named one of Dark Reading's "Top Women in Security Quietly Changing the Game." The person I am choosing to be my main topic of focus is Zate Burg because of his great ability of security on a technological level and being a leader in that field has also intrigued me.

Cherryl Biswas is one of the two I did not choose but is very interesting and talented nonetheless on top of her being a threat intel analyst for Td bank which is my personal bank she is also a political science graduate. Cherryl is also ITIL certified and is a public speaker as she volunteers for major conferences.

Another person of great interest and value that I did not choose was Keirsten Brager who not only is lead security engineer at a fortune 500 utility company she is also the author of many readings for example Secure The InfoSec Bag: Six-Figure Career Guide for Women in Security. She created this to give women the power and encouragement to fully reach their potential in their earning and maximize them. She has many industry certifications like plunk, CISSP, CASP, and Security+. This woman has a multitude of accomplishments and she makes it a duty to guide other women to also have the opportunity to reach those same levels of accomplishments.

Zate Berg has a multitude of interesting things about him which also why he stood out to me the most and why I chose him at the end of the day. Zate Berg has been a part of many projects in the video game industry, not any random games which have no popularity but some fairly kown games. For example he was the Director of security in Fallout 4 in 2015 also in the game DOOM in 2016 and the heroes of skyrim game in 2017. He has participated in many great video game projects which is amazing and he is nonetheless qualified being a top security leader in today's industry.

I chose Zate Berg for a multitude of reasons one being his extensive video game jobs and opportunities getting paid for jobs we would have fun doing and playing. As much as I would love to be apart of what Zate Berg is doing I still have a lot of soul searching to do to before I can say it persuaded me to picking his level of profession although is was highly compelling.
